Dear Pat,

There were so many Laughlin McLaurins that they rapidly become very confusing. I have enclosed bits and pieces of my information on the McLaurins, and just maybe you might find something of interest. However, I won't make any bets!

Most of my family on my mother's side lived in Franklin and Jefferson Counties. My mother visited her grandfather, William M. Shaw in the 1920s and had nostalgia about returning to Mississippi at the first opportunity. My folks finally moved from Dallas to Natchez in 1948 and restored an 1796 house which was on the Pilgrimage for many years.

I enjoy following your information on Mississippi & MS genealogy on *P and I'm glad to see that Southern Mississippi must now mean anything South of Jackson.

Best wishes,

Tony

"A" McLAURIN FAMILY OUTLINE

Prepared by Banks McLaurin, Jr. 18 August 1967 to show a possible relationship between family groups known or thought to be related. Revised 12 February 1970 to incorporate information from G. Gordon McLaurin of Dillon, S. C. This supersedes page 29 of Quarterly No. 1.

A. _____

Aa. Daniel McLaurin, b. ca 1610, m. _____ Stewart (an Appin Stewart). He was educated for the ministry. Had sons: Laughlin, Duncan, John.

Aa-a. John McLaurin, b. ca 1645, m. _____ Cameron, whose sister m. John McLaurin, mother of Colin MacLaurin (See "E" Family Outline). They had children Hugh, Christian, Dougal and John.

Aa-aa. John (of Culloden) McLaurin, b. ca 1680 Argyllshire, Scotland. (See "D" McLaurin Family Outline).

Aa-ab. One of the sons was possibly b. ca 1685 and had:

Aa-aba. A son, b. ca 1710 who could have been the father of:

Aa-abaa. "Upper" Duncan McLaurin, b. 1740, m. Mary McLaurin (B-ca or Aa-acaa). They are known to have been second cousins. (See "B" McLaurin Family Outline).

Aa-abab. Hugh McLaurin, b. ca 1745, d. 1817. He lived in Richmond Co., N. C.; descendants i. Stewartsville Cy. (See "G" McLaurin Family Outline).

Aa-abac. Catherine McLaurin, b. 1747, d. 1829, m. Duncan McLaurin, b. 1724 (B-a or Aa-acb). They lived Richmond Co. and i. Stew.

Aa-abad. A daughter, known to be a sister of Aa-abac, who m. a McColl and had a son:

Aa-abada. John McColl, b. 1772 Scotland. (See page

Aa-abae. Mary McLaurin, b. 1755/60, m. Daniel Stewart. They lived in Richmond Co. and i. Stew. (See "S" McLaurin Family Outline).

Aa-abb. and possibly another son, b. say 1715 whose widow came to USA 1790 with son, Hugh, daughter, Catherine, and granddaughter, Catherine McLean. (See "F" McLaurin Family Outline).

Aa-abc. and possibly another son, b. say 1720 who had:

Aa-abca. Duncan McLaurin, b. E. _____, b. 1742, d. 1801, i. Ardchattan Priory, Loch Etive, Scotland. (See Records #021, Q #3, p. 6).

Aa-abcaa. Dr. Malcolm McLaurin, of Oban, b. 1781/2, i. Ardchattan Priory. Visited in 1835 by a son of Aa-abaa and B-ca when he returned to Scotland for a visit. He d. 1851. (See Rec. #021, Q #3, p. 6).

Aa-ac. Another of the sons was possibly b. say 1690, who at least had three sons. (See "B" McLaurin Family Outline.) "B" and "D" families settled in the same area in the Carolinas, came from the same area in Scotland, buried together in Stewartsville Cy., intermarried and called one another "Cousin".

Ab. _____ McLaurin, possibly the father of

Note: The first of the family to come to the USA was Rev. Robert McLaurine (Eaa-c or Ab-aaa-c) who came in 1749/50 to Virginia. By tradition, he was a descendant of Colin McLaurin, the great mathematician (1698-1746) (Eac or Ab-aac). He could not have been a descendant, but was no doubt related.

According to one source, the wife of Daniel McLaurin (D-b or Aa-aab) was Margaret McLaurine, sister of the Rev. Robert McLaurine. Col. John Singleton Mosby, of the "E" Family, and Daniel Webster McLaurin, of the "D" Family, determined this in a personal meeting. Both were interested in the family history.

The next in the family to come were members of the "D" family in 1775; other members of this family followed in 1783. Duncan, a son of Aa-ac, supposedly came in 1788; the balance of the family came in 1790; two groups of children of sons of Aa-ac, the "F" family, Aa-abada, and probably the "S" and "G" families.

A family history prepared by Neill L. McLaurin, of the "B" family, determined the relationship of the three sons of Aa-ac. A family history prepared by John Roy McLaurin, of the "D" family, outlined the "D" family and related them to the "B" family. A family history prepared by Sorintha Ann McLaurin McCaskill also related the sons of Aa-ac. The Neill L. McLaurin history is Mss. #001 and is on p. 9, Q #2. The John Roy McLaurin history is Mss. #326 and is on p. 37, Q #2. The Sorintha Ann McLaurin McCaskill history is Mss. #044-3 and is on p. 30, Q #2.

NOTE: General notes on family outlines are at the end of the "B" Family Outline, p. 19.

"Ca-d" McLERRAN FAMILY OUTLINE

Outline prepared 1 March 1970 by Banks McLaurin. This family was presumed to be a branch of the "C" family but the latest evidence casts some doubt on this and raises the possibility that it may be from the "U" or "M" family of Virginia, and the possibility has always existed that it is an unconnected branch, possibly from Scotland via Northern Ireland.

Ca-d. _____ McLerran, b. (say) 1775, d. certainly before 1850 (prob. 1840/50). Family tradition is that he is of Scotch Irish origin; was an early settler of Tennessee according to one book. In the 1820 census of Monroe Co., Ky., a Daniel Mclard appears 7 families from Michael Mclaren, and perhaps he could be Ca-d with the name misspelled -- this is so common in the early censuses particularly. Descendants and the census records indicate the children listed below. One of these children, Benjamin, had a Sarah McLerran, b. 1779/80 in Virginia, living with them and she is presumed to be the mother of these children:

Ca-da. Michael McClaren/McLerran, also called Macom, b. 1790/1 N.C., d. will dated Nov 1854 Benton Co., Missouri, m. Susannah _____, b. 1795/6 Ky. They lived Monroe Co., Ky. 1820, 30, 40; in Benton Co., Mo. 1850, 1860.

He was called "Old Duncan Mc" or "Duncan McJohn". See p. 38, Q #2. As a result of being orphaned at five,and the English opression after Culloden, he grew up without education. About 1770 (probably 1775), he imigrated to USA, landing at Charleston, S.C. (probably Wilmington, N.C.) and was required to take the oath to King George III. He made his way to Richmond Co., N.C. where he settled. After Rev. War broke out, he volunteered into Capt. Wm. Meer's Co. and was in several engagements. In an engagement with the Tories under Major Lanig at Caney Creek or Slippery Bridge, he received two musket balls in his left shoulder which disabled him from further service and caused suffering the rest of his life. Lived in Richmond Co., N.C. till 1823 when he moved to Conecuh Co., Ala. where Evergreen is today. She later moved on to Toomsuba, Miss. In 1790, can identify him, wife and daughter in Richmond Co., N.C. In 1810, can identify all of family known in Richmond Co., N.C.

McLARENS IN THE CENSUS

One of the most important tools of genealogical research is the census records. There isn't any other record source where one can locate a family and find out how many people were in it at ten year intervals. The first census of the U.S.A. was taken in 1790 and it has been taken at every ten year interval since. Census records prior to 1890 are available on microfilm in many libraries and from the National Archives. Almost all of the 1890 census was destroyed by a fire in 1921 and census records since have not been released by Congress because people in them are still alive. It is doubtful that any more will ever be released. There are miscellaneous census records of various states, districts, counties, etc. available for certain years, but none were on a continuing basis. If a census has been lost, the only thing which will take its place is a tax list and these only list people who owned land and only the person owning the land.

The first census of the U.S.A. was 1790 and several state's records were destroyed when the British burned federal buildings in Washington, D.C. during the war of 1812. All we have for the important state of Virginia is tax lists of 1783 and 1785. Tennessee was also destroyed, as was Kentucky, so what we have for 1790 is far from complete. In this census, we only have males under and over 16, and females as a group, which doesn't tell us much. I have run all 1790 census records extant; our library has them in book form.

The second census of 1800 is much more illuminating, having five age groups of males and females. I have run the entire state of N.C. and those areas of S.C. where I suspected there were McLaurins. There is an index book available for the entire state of Pennsylvania, New York and Vermont. There is no 1800 census of Virginia, Tennessee or Kentucky; these were lost in the War of 1812. There is a tax list available for Kentucky.

The third census of 1810 was just like the 1800 with respect to questions asked. I have run the entire 1810 census of N.C. and those areas of S.C. where it was considered likely McLaurins would be. There is an index book for Pennsylvania and one for Virginia, so I have these complete.

In the fourth census of 1820, one more column of age information was added for males. There is an index book of Georgia, so that state is complete. I ran Monroe Co., Ky. because I thought here might be McLarens, and found two. There is a complete book on the 1820 Mississippi and one for Alabama. Results were negative in Alabama. I ran the entire state of N.C. for 1820. There is a book with an index of Ohio, so it is complete.

Arthur B. Mickey ran certain areas of Pennsylvania suspected of having McLarens, so we have it fairly complete. I have run the areas of S.C. in which McLaurins were known to be. Most of the 1820 Tennessee census was lost, but what there is we have in book form in our library. Fauquier Co., Va. was run by one of our members, Mrs. Freeman.

In 1830, many more columns of data were added. We have males and females in five year groups up to age 20 and in ten-year groups thereafter to 100. This is very helpful in establishing ages of people. Mrs. Freeman ran 1830 Marion Co., Indiana. I ran 1830 Monroe Co., Ky. Our library has a book for the 1830 census of Michigan, but there is only one McLaren. The 1830 census of Mississippi is in book form and I have run much of it on microfilm. I have run the 1830 N. C. counties where McLaurins were suspected of being. There is an index book for 1830 Ohio. Arthur B. Mickey ran the 1830 counties of Pennsylvania where McLarens were thought to be. I have run certain 1830 counties of S. C. The 1830 census of Tennessee is published in three volumes and is complete in our library. Mrs. Freeman ran the 1830 Fauquier Co., Va. census.

The age categories in the 1840 census are the same as 1830. There are books having data or indexes of 1840 Georgia, Iowa, Mississippi and Ohio, so these states are complete. Various people have run the other 1840 records we have and rather than overlook someone, I'll not acknowledge anyone.

The census was not always taken on the same day. In general, the census was supposed to be as of a certain day even though the enumerator might not get by for several days or weeks. In 1790, 1800, 1810 and 1820, it was the first Monday in August. In 1830, 1840, 1850, 1860, 1870 and 1880, it was the first day of June.

In 1790 and 1800, the Federal Marshals did not have to visit each house. All free persons over 16 were obligated to report to the census taker. Starting in 1810, a census taker had to visit each dwelling, which certainly increased the accuracy.

In all census' prior to 1850, only the head of family was listed by name. That is the reason that the 1850 census is considered the most important from the genealogic point of view -- all people were listed if free. It was in 1850 that other information was also added: each person had to list his age, state of birth, and occupation. 1860 and 1870 data was like 1850. In 1880 one more piece of data was added -- each person other than the head of household listed his relationship to the head of household, and each person not only put down his state of birth, but also the state of birth of his mother and his father.

Like all records, there are errors of commission and omission in the census records. They were handwritten and misspelling abounds. With all their faults, however, they are a most important source of information.

In some cases you will find no data opposite a name. This means that I got the head of family from an index book but have never actually run the census. Those of you who have run census microfilm will appreciate the time which would have been consumed in running all of these films.

I will appreciate your additions and corrections of the following records.

"A" McLAURIN FAMILY OUTLINE

Prepared by Banks McLaurin, Jr. 18 August 1967 to show a possible relationship between family groups known or thought to be related. Revised 12 February 1970 to incorporate information from G. Gordon McLaurin of Dillon, S. C. This supersedes page 29 of Quarterly No. 1.

A. _____

Aa. Daniel McLaurin, b. ca 1610, m. _____ Stewart (an Appin Stewart). He was educated for the ministry. Had sons: Laughlin, Duncan, John.

Aa-a. John McLaurin, b. ca 1645, m. _____ Cameron, whose sister m. John McLaurin, mother of Colin MacLaurin (See "E" Family Outline). They had children Hugh, Christian, Dougal and John.

Aa-aa. John (of Culloden) McLaurin, b. ca 1680 Argyllshire, Scotland. (See "D" McLaurin Family Outline).

Aa-ab. One of the sons was possibly b. ca 1685 and had:

Aa-aba. A son, b. ca 1710 who could have been the father of:

Aa-abaa. "Upper" Duncan McLaurin, b. 1740, m. Mary McLaurin (B-ca or Aa-acaa). They are known to have been second cousins. (See "B" McLaurin Family Outline).

Aa-abab. Hugh McLaurin, b. ca 1745, d. 1817. He lived in Richmond Co., N. C.; descendants i. Stewartsville Cy. (See "G" McLaurin Family Outline).

Aa-abac. Catherine McLaurin, b. 1747, d. 1829, m. Duncan McLaurin, b. 1724 (B-a or Aa-acb). They lived Richmond Co. and i. Stew.

Aa-abad. A daughter, known to be a sister of Aa-abac, who m. a McColl and had a son:

Aa-abada. John McColl, b. 1772 Scotland. (See page

Aa-abae. Mary McLaurin, b. 1755/60, m. Daniel Stewart. They lived in Richmond Co. and i. Stew. (See "S" McLaurin Family Outline).

Aa-abb. and possibly another son, b. say 1715 whose widow came to USA 1790 with son, Hugh, daughter, Catherine, and granddaughter, Catherine McLean. (See "F" McLaurin Family Outline).

Aa-abc. and possibly another son, b. say 1720 who had:

Aa-abca. Duncan McLaurin, b. E. _____, b. 1742, d. 1801, i. Ardchattan Priory, Loch Etive, Scotland. (See Records #021, Q #3, p. 6).

Aa-abcaa. Dr. Malcolm McLaurin, of Oban, b. 1781/2, i. Ardchattan Priory. Visited in 1835 by a son of Aa-abaa and B-ca when he returned to Scotland for a visit. He d. 1851. (See Rec. #021, Q #3, p. 6).

Aa-ac. Another of the sons was possibly b. say 1690, who at least had three sons. (See "B" McLaurin Family Outline.) "B" and "D" families settled in the same area in the Carolinas, came from the same area in Scotland, buried together in Stewartsville Cy., intermarried and called one another "Cousin".

Ab. _____ McLaurin, possibly the father of

Note: The first of the family to come to the USA was Rev. Robert McLaurine (Eaa-c or Ab-aaa-c) who came in 1749/50 to Virginia. By tradition, he was a descendant of Colin McLaurin, the great mathematician (1698-1746) (Eac or Ab-aac). He could not have been a descendant, but was no doubt related.

According to one source, the wife of Daniel McLaurin (D-b or Aa-aab) was Margaret McLaurine, sister of the Rev. Robert McLaurine. Col. John Singleton Mosby, of the "E" Family, and Daniel Webster McLaurin, of the "D" Family, determined this in a personal meeting. Both were interested in the family history.

The next in the family to come were members of the "D" family in 1775; other members of this family followed in 1783. Duncan, a son of Aa-ac, supposedly came in 1788; the balance of the family came in 1790; two groups of children of sons of Aa-ac, the "F" family, Aa-abada, and probably the "S" and "G" families.

A family history prepared by Neill L. McLaurin, of the "B" family, determined the relationship of the three sons of Aa-ac. A family history prepared by John Roy McLaurin, of the "D" family, outlined the "D" family and related them to the "B" family. A family history prepared by Sorintha Ann McLaurin McCaskill also related the sons of Aa-ac. The Neill L. McLaurin history is Mss. #001 and is on p. 9, Q #2. The John Roy McLaurin history is Mss. #326 and is on p. 37, Q #2. The Sorintha Ann McLaurin McCaskill history is Mss. #044-3 and is on p. 30, Q #2.

NOTE: General notes on family outlines are at the end of the "B" Family Outline, p. 19.

He was called "Old Duncan Mc" or "Duncan McJohn". See p. 38, Q #2. As a result of being orphaned at five,and the English opression after Culloden, he grew up without education. About 1770 (probably 1775), he imigrated to USA, landing at Charleston, S.C. (probably Wilmington, N.C.) and was required to take the oath to King George III. He made his way to Richmond Co., N.C. where he settled. After Rev. War broke out, he volunteered into Capt. Wm. Meer's Co. and was in several engagements. In an engagement with the Tories under Major Lanig at Caney Creek or Slippery Bridge, he received two musket balls in his left shoulder which disabled him from further service and caused suffering the rest of his life. Lived in Richmond Co., N.C. till 1823 when he moved to Conecuh Co., Ala. where Evergreen is today. She later moved on to Toomsuba, Miss. In 1790, can identify him, wife and daughter in Richmond Co., N.C. In 1810, can identify all of family known in Richmond Co., N.C.

REPORT FROM THE EDITOR

As a result of the first Quarterly, we now have 108 members of the Clan McLaren Society, U. S. A. Contributions to date total $1169. 69. On pages 2, 3 and 4 of this Quarterly are the names of the members of the Society with their McLaurin # which ties in to our system of record keeping. The capital letter is the large family group to which each member belongs. Refer to the first Quarterly for the early history of your family group. The more letters you have in common with another member, the closer related you are. No relationship is proven between the large family groups as of now. The X-000 series refers to smaller family groups which do not fit into the larger families.

The cost of incorporation and the first Quarterly have resulted in expenses of $303. 96 through May 9. If we are to increase the size of the Quarterly, we need still more members. I suggest tearing off the invititation to membership,which is the last page, and sending it to a relative. We will strive to improve the Quarterly; let me know what you would like to see in future issues. Your officers are very encouraged to date, and I know from your letters that you share our enthusiasm.

The vast majority of questions received to date relate to the clan arms, badge, etc., and I will attempt to answer these.

The heraldic badge appears on the cover of the Quarterly. From the book, "The Maclarens, A History of Clan Labhran", written in 1960 by the wife of the late Chief, Margaret MacLaren of MacLaren, my daughter sketched the Badge for use on the cover. Any clan member is entitled to wear the Chief's heraldic badge, which is the lion's head flanked by laurel sprigs enclosed in a strap and buckle with the clan slogan over the lion's head on the belt. The lion's head with the crown probably goes back to the fact that the McLaren chiefs were descendants of the ancient Kings of Dalriada.

Everything I quote from the Clan History is also in the book "The Clans, Septs and Regiments of the Scottish Highlands" by Frank Adam, revised by Sir Thomas Innes of Learney, Lord Lyon King of Arms, 6th Edition, published in 1960. This is regarded as the authority on Scottish Clans. On page 545, it lists the War Cry (which is also the Clan Slogan) as "Creag an Tuirc" which in English means "The Boar's Rock". This appears on the Heraldic Badge and in the Arms. Creag an tuirc is a large rock at the head of Loch Voil, which is located near Balquihidder in the central Highlands of Scotland. It is in the heart of the original clan country and was the rally point of the clan when a fiery cross was lit. It was owned by the late chief, Donald MacLaren of MacLaren.

The Arms of the Chief are to be used only by the Chief. From page 505 of Adam's book, we have the official description of the arms: "Heraldic Description of Armorial Bearings of the Arms of the Chief, MacLaren of MacLaren: Arms: Or two Chevronnells gules, a lumphad sails furled sable in base. Crest: A lion's head erased sable langued gules, between two branches of spurge laurel in orle proper. Supporters:

Two mermaids proper, holding in their exterior hands a branch of spurge laurel proper. Motto: (over) 'Creag an tuirc'; (below) 'Ab origine fidus', ------- Lyon Register, XLII, 19."

In everyday language, the arms have the Clan Slogan at the top; under this is the crowned lion's head with laurel sprigs on either side. This is all over the arms shield flanked by two mermaids and topped by a Knight's helmet. The motto "Ab origine fidus" appears below the arms. This means "True from the beginning". The arms are those of the dynastic house of Strathern, of which McLaren Chiefs were cadets. The black galley on the arms is from the House of the Isles, from which the McLaren Chiefs descend on a maternal line. From the Clan History, the colors of the Arms are as follows: The arms shield is light orange. The two chevrons on it are red. The galley on it is black. The knight's helmet over the shield is metal colored trimmed in light orange. The lion's head is black and his crown, gold. The mermaids are flesh colored with gray tails and the laurel sprigs are green.

On page 593 of Frank Adam's book is a description of the Clan Tartan from Logan:
1/8 of an inch colors: 9-1/4 blue; 4 black; 1-1/2 green; 1-1/2 red; 3 green; 1/2 black; 1 yellow; 1/2 black; 3 green; 1-1/2 red; 1-1/2 green; 5 black; 18 blue; 5 black.
The exact dye lot varies -- most tartans I have seen are of the ancient dye lots. The late Chief used lighter dye lots and this is his prerogative to change as he likes.

The Clan Badge is the Laurel, according to page 542 of Adam's book. On pages 257 and 258 of this book is a short History of the Clan MacLaren. Color plate 67 shows the ancient tartan. On page 558, the septs of Clan MacLaurin are given as MacFater, MacFeat, MacPatrick, MacPhater, MacGrory, MacRory, and Paterson. Page 330 gives more details of the septs and mentions Larnach as a possible sept. As you can see from the above, the Boar's Rock, the Lion's head, the Motto, and the Laurel sprigs interweave into all clan identification and tradition.

I have had the good fortune to visit such historic Clan sites as the Boar's Rock, the Kirk of Balquihidder with its ancient burial ground in which Rob Roy is reputed to lie, the town of Appin, the ruins of Ardchattan Priory near Appin, the battlefields of Culloden and Killiecrankie, and I saw the Appin colors at Edinburgh Castle under which the Clan fought at Culloden.

A few of the comments have involved errors in the first Quarterly. Below are those which have been called to my attention:

P. 17A. Cc. Alexander McClaran had 3 slaves
Ca-a. John McClaren had 0 slaves
Ca. Capt. Daniel McClaren had 8 slaves.
P. 19. 4th line: the town should be McChristown
P. 20. 4th line from bottom: Guilford Co.
P. 20. 3rd line from bottom: (2) daughters instead of (3)
P. 21. 2nd line should be Daniel Cleviers

I invite your comments and corrections.

The September Quarterly will contain data from cemeteries in which McLaren clan members are buried. Stewartsville and Red Bluff will be two of these and there are numerous others we will include. If you have any cemetery data, please send it in so we may put it in this issue. The December Quarterly will contain manuscripts on the "E", "C", "L", and "J" and other McLaren families. If you have old letters or other data, please send us a copy if you have not already done so.

Due to additional information received since the first Quarterly, there are some changes which should be made in family construction. The "D" family is being restudied and will be revised. The McLerran family, which is called Ca-d. in the first Quarterly and in the membership list, now appears to be a separate family. This is also being restudied. The March, 1970, Quarterly will contain outlines of each of the large family groups down to about 1850, so if you have anything which we might not have prior to this date, please send it in.

In order to cross-index our extensive records and keep them in such condition that they can be found more easily, we have divided our records into four categories:

1. Manuscripts are those records received from individuals and are filed by the name of the person who authored them or the person from whom they were received, starting at #001 and going through #595. We have an index of the authors or donors in alphabetical order.
2. Records are from prime sources such as churches, lodges, cemeteries, county records or state archives. These are numbered from #001 to #195.
3. Books are those records from various books and newspapers. These are numbered from #001 to #808. These are indexed by type of book -- subject, family name or area.
4. Census records are indexed by year, state and county.

The balance of this Quarterly is devoted to some of the oldest Manuscripts we have. The number at the top is the number assigned in our records. A word of explanation about each will be helpful:

Mss. #001. This "Genealogy of McLaurins" was written in 1907 by Neill L. McLaurin whose parents were both McLaurins. His McLaurin #'s are: B-babd and B-amfd. This is a genealogy of the B-a and B-b families and has been found to be very accurate. Most data in it has been proven correct several different ways. He prepared this manuscript for Daniel W. McLaurin, who is D-bccc in our records and one of the early McLaurin family historians to whom we all owe a debt of gratitude. G. Gordon McLaurin of Dillon, S.C. has the original of this manuscript.

Mss. #002. This was also written down at the request of Daniel W. McLaurin by a descendant of B-aod, Esq. Lock McLaurin.

Mss. #003. This was prepared by Miss Mary Buie who is D-baabd-e, another of the early McLaurin historians. She lived at Union Church, Miss. This history relates to the D-b and B-bb families.

Mss. #005. This is a letter from Daniel W. McLaurin (D-bccc) to Miss Mary Buie (D-baabd-e) of 8 Nov 1927 with notes by Daniel Gilmer McLaurin (D-baaef) and Mrs. Sue Wilson McLaurin (wife of B-aaaeh).

Mss. #007. This is a letter from Mrs. Sorintha McLaurin McCaskill (B-chff), a very important McLaurin historian, to Miss Helen McLaurin of Sumter, S.C. (B-aaaea-f) written 3 Dec 1922.

Mss. #017. This history was prepared by Miss Jane Murphy Cronly (B-cadda) in 1915 and is a history of the B-ca family. Mrs. John D. Beatty of Elizabethtown, N.C. sent this to me.

Mss. #044-2. This is a letter from among the records now owned by Mrs. Saul Bell of Albuquerque. It is the earliest letter we have and is written from Ewen McLaurin (B-cd) from Scotland in 1804 to his brother, Duncan (B-ch). Another record in her possession proves that he made it to the U.S.A., but we know of no descendants.

Mss. #044-1. This interesting letter is also from Mrs. Saul Bell's collection. The letter is written by "B-cbe" to "B-ch" in Mississippi and refers to a trip made by "B-cad" to Scotland. During my wife's and my trip to Scotland in 1962, we went to many of the places referred to in this letter. We found the tombstone of Malcom McLaurin mentioned in the letter.

Mss. #044-3. This accurate record of the descendants of B-ch is by Mrs. Sorintha McLaurin McCaskill (B-chff). Probably written about 1871.

Mss. #058. This was written by Rev. C. W. Grafton, the minister at Union Church, Miss. in 1906 and refers to the "D-ba" family. It was sent me by Miss Lottie Warren of Union Church. We have corresponded for many years and without her help, the McLaurin records would not be nearly so complete as they are today.

Mss. #326. This manuscript was prepared by John Roy McLaurin about 1868. It gives the basis for the "D" family construction and refers to the "B" family as "cousins." It is highly accurate.

Mss. #589. This manuscript contributed by Hugh James McLaurin of Dearborn, Michigan was prepared by Miss Catherine E. McLaurin (B-aaach-d) of Sumter, S.C., who this year celebrated her 100th birthday. It is a brief outline of the B-aa family.

As you can see, all of the above manuscripts are from the "B" and "D" (and related) families and are published here as a group because they form the basis for their construction. They have been verified where possible from other sources such as cemetery and census records. Some contain errors because "to err is human", but without any one of them, we would not have a clear picture of early McLaurin history. We are indebted to each of the authors and donors.

GENEALOGY OF McLAURINS August 1, 1907

My great-grandfather on my father's side was named Daniel McLaurin; my grandfather was named Neill McLaurin. My great-grandfather married a McColl; don't know her given name. She had a brother Duncan; he was Simeon McInnis' great-grandfather. My grandfather, Neill McLaurin, married Catherine McMillan. She had a brother, Hester McMillan; he went West. My grandfather, Neill, had six brothers, Lock, John D., Duncan, Hector, Hugh and Daniel. They all went West but Lock and Duncan and Neill. Lock was Red Hugh McLaurin's father and Duncan, in Chesterfield Co., was his wife's father. Their sons were: Daniel, James R., John D., Lock and Duncan; their daughters were Mary and Christian. Mary married Solomon McColl. Christian married Neill Currie. Daniel went West; Lock died at Gibson St., N. C. James R. died in Marion Co., S. C. John D. died at Bennettsville, S. C. Duncan died in Scotland Co., N. C. Red Hugh McLaurin had three brothers: Lock went West; John L. and Daniel C. stayed in S. C. John L's sons were Lock, Phillip B., John B. and Tristram B. Their mother was Betsy Bethea. Daniel C's sons were Lock, John, Alexander and James. Their mother was McDaniel. His sons by second marriage were D. P., now of Clio, and M. M. of Bennettsville. Daniel A. McLaurin's father was Neill McLaurin, a brother of the above named six brothers; his sons were Hugh and Neill L. Hugh was wounded in the late war near Jackson, Miss. and died at Lauderdale Springs, 1863. N. L. is unmarried. Daniel C. McLaurin's daughter, Mary Jane, married C. H. Stanton, now of Little Rock, S. C.

My great-grandfather on my mother's side was named Duncan McLaurin. He married Catherine McLaurin. Their sons were Hugh, Neill, Daniel and Lock. Daniel and Lock went West. Hugh and Neill stayed in S. C. Hugh had one son, Duncan, that died young, and one that went West in 1849. His name was Daniel E. McLaurin. He was a blacksmith as was his father, who was known as Blacksmith Hugh McLaurin. Daniel E. McLaurin has a son, George N. McLaurin if living, now is Miss. Clanland, Boliver Co., Miss. is his address.

Grandfather Hugh McLaurin married Margaret McEachern; his daughters were named Katie, Mary, Nancy and Jean. Mary McLaurin (my mother) married Daniel A. McLaurin. Nancy married Tristram Bethea; Katie and Jean never married. Nancy Bethea had two children: Margaret and William L. Margaret married Caswell Roper. Her sons were John T., Laurin, W. B., B. F., and R. B., one daughter, M. J., who is unmarried.

William L. Bethea went to Georgia and was a doctor in Greenville, Ga.; don't know who he married. My grandfather, Hugh, B. S. (Black Smith) had a brother Hugh; don't know whether he came to this country or not. His father Duncan McLaurin was married twice; of the first family there were 11 children: six sons and five daughters; and of the second, 11 children: five sons and six daughters. Don't know who he married the first time; his last wife was Catherine McLaurin, my great-grandmother. My great-grandmother and Esquire John L. McCall's (C. S. McColl's father) mother were sisters. grandfather, Duncan McLaurin, was wounded in the Battle of Culloden, 1746. Daniel L. McLaurin's (Angus' father) father was named Lock. He was first cousin of both my grandfathers, Hugh and Neill. My grandfather Hugh had a brother, John. He was Daniel McLaurin's father, known as Hurricane Daniel McLaurin. His son, Daniel B. McLaurin, lived in Sumter Co. His son, Daniel B's son, Dr. H. J. McLaurin, is now living in Sumter. My grandfather, Hugh McLaurin, had a brother, Lock. He had two daughters, Margaret and Jennett and one of his sons was named John. Margaret married Alex McKinnon of Rockingham, N. C. Her sons, Angus and Lock. My grandfather, Hugh, had a brother Neill. His sons were Esquire Lock (J. Wesley's father), Daniel D., (Neill D's father), John L. (Neill C's father), and Duncan. Duncan died young. Esquire Lock McLaurin married Nancy McQueen, daughter of Col. Donald McQueen of N. C. Daniel D. McLaurin married Mary McDaniel, daughter of George McDaniel. John L. McLaurin married Christian Calhoun, daughter of Dougal Calhoun. My grandfather, Hugh McLaurin, had a sister, Catherine McLaurin that married Lock McColl. Her son was named Duncan McColl, known as Stumpy Duncan McColl. His sons were named John and Lock B. John was Barny McColl's father. Lock was Colin, Preston and Henry L. B. McColl's father. My grandfather, Neill McLaurin, had a brother, John D. McLaurin. He married Sallie Cameron. She died and he married Katie McIntyre, a sister of the Misses Margaret and Christian McIntyre that lived below the Red Bluff. He went to Alabama. He had a son named Dougal A. McLaurin. He is living in Miss. or Ala., don't know which. My father, Daniel A. McLaurin, had two sisters that married. Catherine married John L. McColl of Richmond Co., N. C. Sarah married Rodrick Kelly of Marion Co., S. C. My father had a brother Malcom McLaurin. He was a school teacher. He never married.

Mr. D. W. McLaurin:

Dear Sir:

These statements are as near correct as I have been able to get them up. They are subject to correction, and I will try to answer any questions you may see fit to ask at any time with pleasure.

Yours truly,

Neill L. McLaurin
Clio, S. C.

My great-grandfather, Daniel McLaurin, did not come to this country. He died in Appin or Kentyre. My grandfather, Neill, was his son. My great-grandfather, Duncan McLaurin, came to this country about 1785-90. My grandfather, Hugh McLaurin, was his son. They all came from Appin or Kentyre, Scotland, about the same date. I have both of my grandfathers' titles of citizenship. One was given in 1806, the other in 1807. I will send you this in pencil as I cannot get it typewritten just at this time. I think I can get information as I meet with other people of the connection, the McKinnons of Marton, N. C. and others, and will send the same to you as I get it up.

LAUCHLIN McLAURIN MANUSCRIPT

Duncan McLaurin, the parental grandfather of Laughlin McLaurin, came to the U. S. from the Isle of Sky, Scotland, just after the close of the Revolutionary War and settled in the sandhills of N. C. at Green Pond near Hamlet. He was married when he came to this country and tradition has it that he had just married his second wife, and that he had 11 children by his wife and 11 by his second wife, but all of his first wife's children did not come to this country. We know of only four of these children: Hugh, known as "Blacksmith Hughie"; Effie, who never married; a son, name not known, who was killed in the Battle of New Orleans; and Neill, the father of Lauchlin McLaurin.

Neill married Mary McLucas, daughter of Daniel McLucas. Daniel McLucas and his young wife came to this country about the same time as the McLaurins from the Isle of Sky (in pencil at side of manuscript is this note: "McLucas' and McLaurin's came over in the same boat. Landed at Wilmington".) There are those living who remember hearing Squire Lauch tell how his grandfather McLucas and young wife landed in Charleston with all their worldly goods tied up in a red handkerchief and $8. 50 in cash. They spent part of this to buy a set of knives and forks, and set out to seek their fortunes. They finally settled on Donoho Bay in the upper part of Marion District, now Dillon Co. They cut logs and built them a house. It is said that they cooked in the yard and used a stump for a dining table. There they lived and raised a family. They bought land and when Daniel McLucas died, he owned the land from Donoho Bay to Little Pee Dee River, on part of which the old Squire Lauch home stands today.

It was a daughter of this couple that Neill married. To this union was born several children, seven of which married and raised families.

Lauchlin, from whose branch of the family we are descendants, was born December 1, 1814. His father was away in the War of 1812 at the time of his birth and he was born at the home of his grandmother. Soon after that, his father built a home where the old Neill D. McLaurin home stood, and there lived and died. This land was inherited from his wife's father, Daniel McLucas.

Lauchlin was a brave and daring young fellow, from all accounts we have of him. It is said that on his first long journey away from home, which was to Little Rock to the muster, that he got into four fights and came out victorious on each occasion.

On Oct. 28, 1840, Lauchlin married Nancy McQueen, daughter of Colonel Donald and Katie McQueen of Robeson County, N. C. Col. Donald McQueen came here from Scotland in his young manhood and married Katie, daughter of Col. James McQueen and Ann McRae McQueen of old Queensdale. To this couple was born 12 children, who were all reared to maturity. Nancy was the second child of this union and was born July 25, 1816.

Lauchlin had built a log house near where the present house stands and to this he brought his young bride. Here they lived until just before the Civil War when they built the present as it stands today. The house was finished and they were having it painted when the call came for the men to go to the War. The work was laid down and was never taken up again.

Laughlin McLaurin was a man of sterling qualities with a wife who was indeed his equal and helpmeet. They spent their lives in the fear and admonition of the Lord. They were both members of the Presbyterian Church and he served many years as an elder in that church. The McLaurins were Presbyterian people but when they first came to this country there was no Presbyterian Church convenient, and they being a God-fearing people, united with the Methodist. Lauchlin had joined the Methodist Church, but when Carolina church was organized he moved his membership there with his wife who was a staunch Presbyterian. He was a man full of faith. I've heard my mother say that he always said that the 23rd Psalm was such a comfort to him when he was depressed and things looked blue, and they must have looked that way to him many times, for he lived and toiled through the most trying times our beloved Southland has ever experienced. I remember seeing him sit on the porch in the sun on cool days with his stick between his feet and both hands resting on the end of it. He would sit perfectly still but his lips would be moving and in my childish thoughts always imagined he was saying to himself, "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." I am older now and I still think he was repeating over to himself the wonderful promises of God and gaining from them the great comfort that is the heritage of old age from a life well spent.

It is a remarkable fact that four of his sons-in-law, which number five, were officers in the Presbyterian Church, and that each one of his grandchildren, which is 46 in number, are Presbyterian, except a few who have no church relation.

Laughlin McLaurin died April 3, 1889. Nancy, his wife, died May 10, 1894.

Miss Mary Buie

Dear Cousin,

I will write you a few lines now and later will try to answer you in full as near as I can.

Piper Hugh McLaurin and my Grandfather, John, were Brothers. I remember him. They had a Brother, Daniel, who followed the sea service, and the last they heard of him, He was fitting out a cruise for Portland, Maine. Grandfather John had three Sons, Daniel N., Captain Lock L and John J. Daniel N. lived and died in Brookhaven, Miss. J. J. lived on Grandfather's old home place, died a few years ago, 82 years old. Left a large family. My mother was a McCall. L. L. was my father. They had six Sons, John, Hugh, Daniel, James, Luther, and Walter B., and four Daughters, Mary, Margaret, Albina, and Effie. All lived to be grown and raised families. Luther and I are only ones living. He is seventy one and I will be eighty four if I live until sixteenth of December. Grandfather was eighty-five.

I do not know who Piper Hugh married. I often heard my Father talk of the family. They lived on adjoining places. I know more about Daniel and Peter as they married McLaurins and sisters. My Father visited his Brother Daniel and his uncle Piper Hugh in about 1856. Lock McLaurin, Lucy Wright's Grandfather, settled at Laurinton on the Little Pee Dee River. The head of navigation in 1795. His wife, Annie, was a McCall. They had four sons, Lock, Hugh, Daniel C (Lucy Wright Applewhite), Grandfather and John L., and some Daughters. Lock was the grandfather of your Governor and U. S. Senator. John L. was the Grandfather of John L., our U. S. Senator, at the same time Anselm was Senator. I met Anse in Washington. My great grandfather was Daniel of Islay, Scotland.

Will write you when I have more time.

Your Cousin D. W. McLaurin

(Note by Daniel Gilmer McLaurin):

The Piper Hugh he speaks of was my great great grandfather who is buried in the McLaurin Cemetery (born in Isley, Scotland). His father was Daniel of Islay, Scotland. He was called Piper Hugh because when he was about twelve, a Scotch Lord heard him perform on his Bagpipe and persuaded him to go home with him to be his Piper. The Lad soon got so homesick he went home to stay. He was one who gave Grandma Buie that silver pencil when she was young. His Children's names were 1. Daniel, our ancestor, who married Mary McLaurin (My Father's and Aunt Jane Buie's Mother and Father), 2. Peter - Cousin Mary Shaw and Liza Newman's Father - married

Margaret McLaurin. She was born on the Ocean when they were moving from Scotland to S. Carolina. Mary and Margaret were Sisters, married Brothers, but were not related to Husbands. 3. Duncan, Coz. Sallie McLean's Father. (4?) John. 5. Nancy, married Cameron, was Coz. Frank Cameron's Grandmother. 6. Sarah, married Warren, was Dr. Warren's Grandmother. 7. Mary, married Coz. Hugh Fairley. The Daniel N. McLaurin of Brookhaven was Jennie McLaurin's Father. She and Papa waited on Dr. Warren's Father & Mother when they were married. Daniel N. McLaurin's family were charter members of Presbyterian Church, Brookhaven, formerly of Union Church. Lucy Wright he speaks of was Lissie Allred's mother.

(Note by Mrs. Sue W. McLaurin):

The above was among the papers of Daniel Gilmer McLaurin and kindly sent by his wife, Hattie Stewart McLaurin for perusal to Cattie E. McLaurin of Sumter. This Mrs. H. S. Brandon, Miss.
December 3rd, 1922

Dear Miss Helen:

Your letter was received sometime since; and I intended replying long ere this, but a severe cold made me very sick and I have an invalid Brother who has been sick and required so much of my attention. I hope you will excuse me. I don't know that I can give you much information,but to tell you something.

My grandfather was born in Argyllshire, Scotland. (A few years ago, while my husband was Consul in Dublin, Ireland, we spent his vacation in Scotland and went to Oban where grandfather (Duncan McLaurin) was born.) When grandfather was eighteen years old, he and Daniel McL. (first cousin) came to Marlborough, S. C. and lived at Sumter where he had a sister, Mary Colquehoun. Daniel Mc. married Mary's daughter, Nancy, his 2nd cousin (a family trait). He was Lauch (Ida's husband's grandfather). Then Daniel and grandfather Duncan McL. moved to Green Co., Miss.

In S. C., he married (1) Anne Black. She left two girls, Mary and Nancy. Then he married (2) Nancy McIntyre. She left Hugh Daniel and Kathrine. Next (3) wife was my grandmother, Katie Dove (my father was John Dove), Cornelius, and Margaret were her children. I've heard "the old folks", Pa and Uncle, talk of the relatives, and how I wish I had paid more attention, written it down. As I am now the oldest, (in my seventy-eighth year), so often I am asked to trace the kin.

We are all clannish. I know Pa had uncles Lauch, John and Cornelius, and sisters in Marlborough district. There is a Lauch B. McLaurin in Jefferson Co., Miss, kinsman of ours. Cousin John R. McLaurin lived in Toomsuba, Ala. His brother, Duncan, married my mother's sister, widow of my father's oldest brother, Hugh. Mother and four sisters married father and his brothers, and so you see we were all double cousins, large families. Cousin Ida's husband's mother was my aunt and married Dr. Hugh McLaurin. Senator Anselm McL's father was Lauch McLaurin and his grandfather was Lauch McL, and he married Nancy Colquehoun, Father's 1st cousin.

Cousin Anselm and his brothers eight lived in Brandon. Now they are all dead. Oh! I feel lonely, so many dear relatives and friends have dropped off -- "like leaves in wintry weather", and my brother, me and my cousin are the last of all the 1st cousins. I have no doubt we are all related. There are many by the name. Some spell the name McClaurrin and McLaurine, but I guess some did not know how. Anyway, all are respectable people and I am proud of the name, also of McCaskill, as my husband's grandfather came from Scotland with my grandfather.

I fear I haven't enlightened you or given you any information and been very tiresome and uninteresting.

My brother is seventy-four yrs., is paralyzed on one side and has palsy in the other. I feel God is good to spare me to look after him. I am not strong and can scarcely see to write or read.

It has been a pleasure to write to you, wish I could see you. I thank you for asking me to your home. I am too old now, but I have a large home with thirteen rooms, there is a room and sincere welcome for you if you come to see us all.

I remember Cousin John C. Mc. who used to visit my father, and ride horse-back all the way from Carolina.

I am very sorry for Cousin Ida. I know from experience how desolate and lonely she feels, but she ought to be reconciled to God's will. She has never been cheerful or happy since her three years old girl died over thirty years ago. Cousin Lauch was so kind and she misses his tender care. His going away was such a severe shock to her, I fear she will not ever be comforted. She has a brother and two nieces. I think it a duty for their sakes to try to be cheerful. I try to be cheerful for my children's sakes. I feel sure I will amuse you with this very disconnected epistle. Please remember I can hardly see what I write.

Very sincerely,
Sorintha McL. McCaskill

I am sure you are one of our family. My great-grandmother was a McGregor. My son ordered books and histories of the Clans from Scotland. The McLaurin Clan and McG's were bitter enemies. Neil G., my second son, after reading of their battles said he didn't see how the McL's and the McG's could love and marry.

Hoping to hear from you again

Very truly yours,
Sorintha McL. McCaskill

MacLAURINS IN AMERICA

(Ed. Note: Known errors are put in [])

Duncan and Mary MacLaurin, both MacLaurins by birth, and second cousins, came to America from Glen Etive, near Appin, Argyleshire, Scotland, in the year [1798,] with their seven sons and two daughters. It was no lack of prosperity, nor desire to better their fortunes, that led these parents to take this step, for they carried on a large farm in one of the most fertile and picturesque parts of Scotland. Their home was a large white house, so my grandfather, Neill MacLaurin, used to tell his children, in the beautiful Glen near Lock Etive, surrounded by majestic mountains and situated upon a stream so clear that the salmon could be seen living twenty feet below upon its pebbly surface; but they had seven sons, and the British Government had since the last uprising of the clans in 1745 become very strict in requiring the young Highlanders to serve in the army.

Mary MacLaurin had had ten brothers in the battle of Culloden, several of whom were slain, so she naturally had a horror of war and bloodshed. When, therefore, the eldest of these sons reached the age of conscription, 18 years, they determined to leave home and country rather than part with their children.

The two eldest, John and Hugh, were being educated at the University of Glasgow, and it must have seemed a great pity to bring them away to an American wilderness, and it must have been a bitter grief to leave the old home where so many generations had lived and died; but the family sailed from Scotland on the 31st of August, [1798.] They did not reach their destination, Wilmington, N. C., until the 5th of December, owing to the ship's getting out of her course. Water had become very scarce and it was a wearied lot of passengers that finally stepped ashore in the New World.

Sixteen families of the name MacLaurin were among these, all more or less related, and all doubtless leaving Scotland for the same cause. A number of them were clergymen, whose destination was Virginia and New York. [In all likelihood, one of them] the Rev. [Edward]MacLaurin, an Episcopal clergyman, was the grandfather of Col. John S. Mosby, the great Confederate Chieftain. The Rev. H. M. White, D. D., and his son of the same name, both celebrated Presbyterian ministers, are also descended from another of these, in all probability. Most of these nearest of kin, however, settled either in the lower edge of Richmond, now Scotland County, North Carolina, or just over the border into South Carolina.

Laurinburg, named in honor of the clan, is a flourishing town, and the county seat of Scotland County. There was also a place in South Carolina called Laurinton, which name must have been discontinued after 1835.

Later a number of the family moved to Mississippi. Among them, Laughlin MacLaurin, a nephew of Duncan and Mary, who was the ancestor of Anslem Joseph MacLaurin, successively governor of and U. S. Senator from Mississippi, and his seven other talented and important brothers. The daughter of Anslem J. MacLaurin, Mrs. Daisy MacLaurin Stevens, is President General of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Another nephew, John, was the grandfather of [Ex-Governor and] U. S. Senator of South Carolina, John Lowndes MacLaurin, who now occupies the important position of State Commissioner of Warehouses in that state. His father was Philip MacLaurin, a very popular and lovable citizen of Upper South Carolina.

Duncan and Mary MacLaurin and their Descendants

Duncan and Mary MacLaurin, with their seven sons, John, Hugh, Laughlin, Neill, Duncan, Donald and James, and their two daughters, Nancy and Effie, established themselves at Laurel Hill, several miles to the northwest of Laurinburg and named in honor of the badge of the clan, a sprig of mountain laurel.

The new home was about forty miles from the town of Fayetteville and in a pleasant country, but level and monotonous, and the family sadly missed the mountains and streams of its native land; also the fish and game, for the mother had been in the habit of putting up barrels of birds, half-cooked, and packed between layers of butter for winter consumption, and there were no fish in their present inland home and no barley and no fine mountain lamb and mutton.

The sons, as they grew to manhood, with the exception of James, the youngest, established themselves elsewhere, but the parents lived at Laurel Hill for the rest of their lives. These parents must have missed also very much the services of their church, for they were Episcopalians, so rigid as to have had each child christened on the eighth day, and there was no church of that denomination near them. They never united with any other church, but most of their children became eventually Presbyterians.

I. Their eldest son, John, went very soon to Fayetteville, where he became one of its wealthiest and most prominent citizens. He married Mary Matthews, a very cultivated and charming woman. They had a large family of beautiful daughters and three sons. John, the eldest, from earliest manhood, was Clerk of the Superior Court of Cumberland practically all his life. He never married. Duncan and William succeeded to their father's business, which they carried on successfully until the coming on of the Civil War, and death of William, who married Elizabeth Whitehead and left quite a family of children. Duncan married a first cousin of Elizabeth Whitehead, Elizabeth Eccles, the daughter of a celebrated lawyer, and after the war removed to Florida, where some of his children and grandchildren are still living. His son, Joseph Hooper MacLaurin, is and has been for years the President of the Southern Grocers' Ass'n.

A daughter of William and Margaret Hooper MacLaurin, the last of the name in Fayetteville, has miniatures of her grandparents, John and Mary Matthews, the one of her grandfather done in Paris, the other in Philadelphia, both of remarkably fine workmanship.

II. The second son of Duncan and Mary MacLaurin, Hugh, probably accepted the offer of a certain "old Uncle Daniel" MacLaurin as he was always called, who was said to have owned nearly the whole of Hinds County, Miss, and to have offered to give fine farms to any of his kinsmen who would remove to that state. At any rate, Hugh prospered greatly, and his only child, Duncan, became one of the wealthiest men in those parts. It was this Duncan MacLaurin who spent the $3,000.00 in the courts to prove the ownership of a worthless pony which someone else had claimed. "But you are leaving the pony behind you", somebody said as he was leaving for home triumphantly surrounded by his friends after the final decision in his favor. "The pony!" was the reply. "Anybody can take him. It was only because my word had been questioned that I went to law."

He married the widow of a cousin, Hugh MacLaurin. He generally spent the summers in the North with his family, which consisted of his wife, her pretty and interesting daughter, Rachel, two beautiful daughters of his own, still small children, and a sprightly young cousin, Nan MacLaurin. They stopped several times and visited their relatives in N.C. They spent the winters often in New Orleans at the St. Charles Hotel. Here Nan met and married Judge Anselm Myers (pronounced Meares), the noted jurist of Louisiana. Rachel married Col. Wm. McNeill, originally of Robeson Co., N.C. and died only a few years ago at Brandon, Miss.

III. Laughlin, the third son and (VI) Donald, the sixth son of Duncan and Mary MacLaurin, carried on a successful business in Fayetteville under the firm name of L. & D. MacLaurin. These brothers never married. They educated their sister Effie (IX), the youngest child of the family, in Fayetteville where she kept house for them. They sent her to the Episcopal Church as soon as one was organized in Fayetteville and she and her children have ever continued devoted members of that communion.

She was a very pretty and much admired in the town. She married Mr. Augustine Shepheard of the well known Virginia family, and an uncle of Judge Jesse C. Shepheard of Fayetteville, and removed to Wadesboro, N.C. where her daughter, Catherine, became the wife of Judge R. T. Bennett, during the Civil War one of the youngest colonels in the Confederate Army. There are three daughters of this marriage still living: Mrs. R. E. Little, Mrs. J. D. Leak and Mrs. John T. Bennett of Wadesboro.

Frederick Augustine Shepherd, the only son of Augustine and Effie MacLaurin Shepherd, made a fortune in the wholesale boot and shoe business in Nashville, Tenn. He was educated at Chapel Hill University, but removed to Nashville when a young man.

IV. Neill MacLaurin, the fourth son of Duncan and Mary MacLaurin, and the grandfather of the writer, was said not to have been so handsome as most of his brothers, but he had a fine intellectual face and he was a man of scholarly attainments, who used often to sit up most of the night reading and studying. To the study of French he was devoted. Still, bookworm as he was, he succeeded well in the business world because of his ability and conscientiousness.

For many years he was a member of the prosperous mercantile firm of McCall and McLaurin, doing business, mostly wholesale, in Wilmington during the closing years of the 18th and the earlier years of the 19th century, or until 1820. By the failure of a large firm, Kershaw and Ochiltree of Fayetteville, and the loss of $10,000.00 by going security for a friend, Mr. Hatridge, the business weakened and finally discontinued after the death of this partner, Mr. McCall. From that time he was deputy collector of the Port until failing health compelled him to resign about the year 1845.

Neill McLaurin was exceedingly absentminded and many amusing anecdotes are told of him regarding this trait. He had been visiting his brother, John, ten miles from Fayetteville. When the time came for him to return home, he was left to spend the night at the town house under the care of Billy, a faithful manservant, in order to catch the boat down the Cape Fear River, which started very early in the morning. At nine o'clock, when his brother drove up to the house and opened the door, there he sat absorbed in a book. "Why God bless me, Bro. Neill, I thought you were half way down the river to Wilmington by this time." "Why bless me, Bro. John, I had no idea it was near time for the boat to start." Billy, seeing the guest's absorption in his book, had been too polite to interrupt him. He had sat and nodded all night and supplied him with fresh candles from time to time. Another time he was walking the streets in a brisk spring shower reading a newspaper and carrying his umbrella under his arm. As he passed the home of Mrs. Edward Hall on Front Street, she sent a servant out to beg Mr. McLaurin to raise his umbrella. He hastily did so and sent a message of thanks to Mrs. Hall, saying that he had not noticed it was raining.

While living in Fayetteville before his removal to Wilmington, Neill McLaurin was most earnestly besought to accept the Captaincy of the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry. When the war broke out with Mexico, he offered his services as a private because he thought it was the duty of all unmarried men to defend their country. His services were never required, the war ending before the Company was ever called into action. The members were pensioned, however, some years later by being presented with lands on the west owned by the Government.

Never was a man more beloved by his friends and he had no enemies. When an invalid confined to his home, even the young men of the day would come to see him and enjoy his conversation. Among these were two especially fond of him, the Rev. Lucien Holmes, an Episcopal clergyman, and Mr. Buck Wilkins, a talented and splendidly educated young man who had lately returned from an European tour with his friend, John D. Taylor. The young officer in some way gave offense to a rather rough and rowdy Whig politician, Mr. Joe Flanner, and though he sent an apology, it was not delivered and the fine young man was slain in a duel. This happened after Neill McLaurin's death some years.

Among his older friends were more especially two, Mr. Hooper of the historic family of the name, and Capt. Milan, a very eccentric but learned Britisher, formerly of the Royal Navy. He would always take these and other friends to the sideboard for a social glass, though he was a remarkably temperate man. One glass of French brandy a day was all he ever took himself, and when after a slight stroke of paralysis his physician substituted whiskey for brandy, it was most distastful to him.

In the year 1832 when he was 53 years old, he visited the old home in the Highlands and stood alone beside the stream where he had played in childhood days with his many brothers and beheld the grandeur of the familiar mountains with a sad heart, while he lived over those former days. He climbed along the mountain which he and one of his brothers had started to climb and turned back because of some childish disagreement. He recalled the delight of the children in listening to tales of the great world told by visiting kinsmen, especially those of a cousin, Maj. James MacLaurin, who used to stop with them when going to and returning from visits to his own home far north. He was an officer in a regiment serving in India and afterwards, I think, General MacLaurin.

Neill MacLaurin was married in the year 1817 to Jane Murphy, the daughter of Robert Murphy (originally MacMurphy) who had removed to Wilmington from Fayetteville a few years before that. She was descended from a Scottish family which had come to America in the year 1770 from Campbelltown, Cantye, Scotland. Robert Murphy had married his second cousin, Jean Murphy, the daughter of Alexander Murphy, also of Cumberland County near Fayetteville, but in a different direction from the home of Robert Murphy.

Jane Murphy MacLaurin, the daughter of Robert and Jean Murphy, was a most generous and unselfish woman, whose life was spent in devoted care, not only of her husband and children, but of her brothers and sisters left orphans at an early age.

Jane MacLaurin died July 9, 1849, aged 52 years. Neill MacLaurin died June 16, 1853, aged 74 years.

Children of Neill and Jane Murphy MacLaurin

(1) Robert Duncan, who died in 1825, aged seven years.

(2) Joseph, who married Nancy Wilbur, a descendant of Eliphalet Swain who possessed the first windmill in Nantucket, and who was evidently a progressive citizen. She was also a relative of Admiral Coffin, who established a large grammar school in Nantucket in which descendants of all relatives are entitled to free tuition. Joseph MacLaurin died Jan. 7, 1902.

Their children now living are Mary, now Mrs. Walter Coney of Savannah, Ga. and Catherine Isabella of Wilmington. Laughlin Wilbur died Jan. 11, 1920. Maria, Mrs. James Taylor, died Nov. 1912, and a son Neill died in 1875; also two daughters, Winnie and Etta in infancy.

(3) Mary, who married Dr. Robert D. Dickson of Wilmington, removed with him to Laurinburg and died there Nov. 30, 1879.

Robert Duncan Dickson was the son of James Dickson, a native of Ireland. His mother dying, he with his brothers, the celebrated Dr. James Dickson and Daniel Dickson, for many years Post Master of Wilmington, were brought up by their aunt, Mrs. Catherine Taylor, a most beloved and esteemed lady who was known as "Aunt Taylor" by everybody who felt near enough to use that endearing title. She was an especially beloved friend of the MacLaurin family.

Joseph Medill, who founded the Chicago Inter-Ocean and became such a power in Republican politics, was first cousin to Dr. Dickson. Dr. Dickson was for many years the beloved physician for Laurinburg and all the surrounding country. His funeral procession was said to have extended from one end of the county to the other. He died April 4, 1896 leaving no children.

(4) Margaret MacLaurin, who married Michael Cronly, the only child of James and Sallie Taylor Cronly of New York City. His parents dying when he was a small child, he was brought up by an uncle, Mr. John A. Taylor of Wilmington, N. C., and his Scotch-Irish grandmother, a woman of fine mind and much dignity of character, who had brought him away from New York to prevent his father's wealthy brother, Edmund Cronly, from educating him as a priest. A monument to his Catholic ancestors stands in the old St. Patrick's Cathedral of that city.

The children of Michael and Margaret Cronly are: Jane Murphy, Sallie Taylor, Michael, Joseph Murphy, William Neill, Robert Dickson, Douglas Tennent, Margaret and Mary Dickson. Of the six still living, Robert is an official in the Coast Line, Michael in the Sheriff's office, and three sisters all of this city. Douglas is Special Agent for South Carolina for the F. S. Royster Fertilizer Co., with headquarters in Columbia, S. C.

Michael Cronly died Feb. 6, 1898; Margaret Cronly died Jan. 2, 1911; William Neill Cronly died Aug. 25, 1904; Joseph Murphy died Jan. 11, 1907; Sallie Taylor died Dec. 21, 1913.

(5) Catherine MacLaurin married Hays White Beatty, son of William and Sophia Gibbs Beatty and the grandson of an Irish baronet, Sir Kadlei Day. William Beatty owned immense tracts of land in Bladen County and a great many negroes.

Hays Beatty and Catherine, his wife, had one daughter, Jane, Mrs. James N. Corbett, and seven sons, four of whom are still living: Joseph Murphy at Pleasant Retreat, the old homestead; Neill and John Day in Bladen County, and Will in Kansas City, Mo.

Hays W. Beatty, Sr. died Feb. 17, 1897; Catherine McL. Beatty died April 30, 1907.

(6) John MacLaurin, the second son of Neill and Jane MacLaurin, married Catherine Holmes Blanks, a descendant of the families of the name in New Hanover and Sampson Counties. Their children are Betsey, who married M. H. Jones of Durham, N. C., Mary Dickson, who married W. M. Parsley of Wilmington, and Sarah, who lives in Wilmington.

John MacLaurin owned and for many years edited the North Carolina Presbyterian with much ability and to the great spiritual life of its many readers all over this and other states. He was gifted with a fine mind and a rare power of expression and stood for all that was hightoned and honorable in the community in which his life was passed.

John MacLaurin died Dec. 23, 1907; Catherine Holmes MacLaurin, his wife, died Dec. 6, 1902.

(7) Hugh MacLaurin, the youngest child, married Mrs. Mary Moore Blanks of Sampson County. They had no children. Mary Moore MacLaurin died April 21, 1888. Hugh MacLaurin died Dec. 17, 1893. He was a noted mathematician.

V. Duncan MacLaurin, the fifth son of Duncan and Mary MacLaurin, was the most successful of the brothers, all of whom did well in their adopted country. He owned the stage running from Cheraw, and probably other points in South Carolina, to Wilmington, N. C. This was the great highway for transporting passengers, merchandise and the mail, and paid its possessor large dividends. He died when only a little over forty, leaving a large fortune to his two children, Hugh W. and Catherine.

His wife, born Mary Mason of upper South Carolina and niece of Gen. Alfred Dockery of Rockingham, N. C., had died some years before and the only son survived his father a short while.

The daughter married an elderly widower, Peter MacCallum, formerly from Robeson Co., N. C. and removed with her to Arkansas. She had two daughters who married officers in the army.

This Duncan MacLaurin was one of the kindest and most generous of men, and was beloved not only in the family circle but by all who knew him. He was noted for his kindness to struggling young men and gave a number of them a start in life. He was a great loss to the community as well as to his brothers in a financial way.

VII. James, the youngest son, was the only one who remained at home, except the elder sister, Nancy, who was very small and never married. She came next to Neill in age.

James married his first cousin, Mary MacLaurin. They both died when quite young, leaving a family of six sons, all of whom, except the eldest, removed to Mississippi where they died without heirs, except James, the youngest, who left one son. Lauch W, as he was known to everybody, the eldest son, lived and died at Laurinburg where some of his children continue to live.

A daughter, Mary, is the widow of Alexander MacKinnon, who was a large planter of Robeson County near Maxton.

Others of the name were Capt. Wm. H. McLaurin, whose bravery in the Civil War was unsurpassed and who died about 1915. He was very handsome, was the last remaining son of Col. John C. McLaurin, a man of fine presence, much esteemed in the community during his long life of eighty odd years. Before the War Between the States, he was a large land and slave owner and kept up a handsome and most hospitable home.

There is also Capt. Lauch A. McLaurin, who carries on a model farm in the upper end of Scotland County and his seven prosperous sons, though most of them have moved to Florida. His son, William, has been sheriff of the county for a number of years, though quite a young man.

Besides John Lowndes McLaurin of Bennettsville, the descendants of Dr. Henry MacLaurin and of Julius McLaurin of Sumter, there are others of the name living at Dillon, Clio and other places in South Carolina.

Another [Duncan] McLaurin who is related to the Carolina families occupies a beautiful home near Dallas, Texas and is a man of wealth and influence in the community. The Rev. Peyton H. Hoge was most elegantly entertained by this gentleman and his wife, the daughter of an army officer, when attending the meeting of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church at Dallas, although the family belong to the Episcopal faith.

There are others living in Alabama, New York State, Boston and Canada.

"To: Duncan McLaurin, Esq., December 22, 1838
Simpson Co., Mississippi

Dear Uncle,

Believing it to be a duty incumbent on me to address you after so long neglecting you, yet I hope you will excuse me for the delay. As it frequently happens that when we think of our relations at a distance that is the time when it is least convenient to write. However I think when I last parted with you the promise was that you would write me and that I was to answer your letter and if you have written I have not re'd. I have before me a letter from Cousin Neill McLaurin of Wilmington who returned from Europe about the lst of last Nov. and as I think it will be interesting to you I will give you his own language as stated in his letter: 'I wrote to you by a Mr. Blount who went out with me in the export telling you of my arrival at Liverpool. I started out for Scotland in the Glasgow Steam Boat John Blood on the 15th of July and arrived in Glasgow next day at 12 Oclock. In three days I went to Edinborough by Canal in 8 hours from Glasgow. I returned to Glasgow and after 2 days departed in the Steam Boat Maid of Morvin for Appin when I arrived at Port Appin in about 30 hours from Glasgow. On my way I stoped at Oban where I went to see our relation Dr. Malcom McLaurin. He was exceedingly glad to see me and asked a great many questions relating to his relations. His recollection of them is truly extraordinary. I could stay with him but 10 minutes but called on him on my return and staid 1/2 an hour. He proposed taking a glass of Scotch whiskey with me and we parted after I had promised him to write to him after my return home. There was a crowd at Port Appin when I landed. I spoke in the Gaelic language which by the by I speak better than any of them. For the English to them (shame be it skin) is the language most commonly spoken in conversation among the natives and they speak it well though of course with a copious seasoning of the Brogue. I spoke in the Gaelic language as I said before and in a few minutes I was summoned by every body in the immediate neighborhood and after I had told them who my father was they received me as their countryman. In short their kindness was excessive to me. I shall ever remember it with gratitude. I went by a pressing invitation to the house of Duncan McKenzie who lives at Blarchaisgag and there remained during my stay in Appin. In 2 days I went to Glenative. Was in the house where I was born. I went up to the top of Benchirich. It was one of the finest July days that ever graced the top of that high and venerable mountain. About 2 oclock P.M. I loitered on the Stop and the beautiful table land at the base of it till late in the evening viewing with extacy the delightful picture there by the hand of nature extended before me. Hard to the west was well known Ben Atarav and a little more remote Chrnochan Benn to the north and northwest the mountains of Mull in the distance the stupendous Benivis to the south Appin Mountains beautiful though less lofty, at the head of Glenurochy and far to the south of --------. A little to the East is Inviroran at the head of Loch Tollaie, and nearer to my station in the same direction but at many miles distance is Drimiliush, the place I was told by my guide where Mr. Donald Campbell the father of Mr. Archibald, Hugh and Angus Campbell resides. I am all together incapable of giving an interesting description even from the best materials. Therefore let it suffice to say that the view I had of the surrounding country was in the highest degree enchanting. So completely did its lovliness take possession of my immagination that for some seconds every faculty of my mind was suspended and I did not come to my proper recollection until Mr. McColl laughed at my not attending to his answer of some question I had asked him ---.

'The whole of Drinichois is rented by Mr. Paul McColl son of Solomon McColl of Coroven. Peter McIntyre lives in the house formerly occupied by Malcom McColl but has nothing to do with the farm. Paul gives him the priviledge of the grass for two cows and a few goats. They both were very kind to me. I met by accident John McIntyre son of Malcom McIntyre of Invercharnan. He showed me no kindness whatever. He and a Brother of his have 7 or 8 farms in different places 3 of them in the native Glen. Say the three farms above Drimochois on the same side the river they are said to be rich. John made a great deal of money in the lowlands where he twice failed in business. Our uncle John died about 2 years ago and left a widow and son (a stone mason) and 4 daughters - very fine children I was told by their acquaintance. In Glasgow I staid one night with Mr. Neill McColl son of Duncan Roy Fuver a near relation of ours. His estate is much involved by being security for a brother in law of his son of Ecrachnachor. I was in company with Paul McColl who used to be our shepheard. He is a very fine old man. I also saw Lauchlin Aug McLaurin a soldier of the 71st Reg't. who was in America during the revolution. On my return to Glasgow I found out Archibald McColl son of Malcom McColl of Drimichoir and some of his sisters. He is a merchant in Glasgow highly respectable. He paid the most flattering attention to me during my stay in Glasgow. I dined with him twice he went about town with me to show me everything that could interest a stranger.' -----

He said nothing about uncle Hugh nor any of his family. I expect he did not hear anything about him as his stay was so very short in that country. I have nothing that would be interesting to you that you cannot get from Cousin Daniel Stewart who starts today to your country and expects to call on you. Hugh W. McLaurin has been quite unwell for about 12 months I think he has consumption The McLaurins Hugh and Catharine are at St. Augustine it being recommended to Hugh W. for his health I heard from them about two weeks he is rather improving at that time We all enjoy good health at this time. Mother is frequently complaining and becoming frail Our relations in this part of the country are generally well. Cousin Nancy stays at the old place yet - has two of James children with her the others at our --------- and grows well. Give my compliments to all my friends that will inquire for me - to Aunt ------ to uncle Dougald McFarland and Aunt Effie - to the rest of your own family - and accept them yourself. Write me soon.

I am Dear Uncle your affectionate nephew,

John C. McLaurin "

THE McLAURIN GRAVEYARD

The many readers of the "Leader" will doubtless be pleased to read about one of the most sacred spots in all our sections of the Country. This is the old McLaurin graveyard. It is close to the line of Lincoln and Copiah, on the place once owned by Calvin Blue. The men of early days selected it as a worthy place for laying away their loved ones to sleep. The Homochitto river flows not far away. At the foot of the hill is Cedar Creek. Flanking it on one side is a little brook. On the slope of the hill are venerable trees, oaks, beeches and pines. Here in this spot the forefathers of the hamlet sleep. No more appropriate place could have been selected for a cemetery. Here the flowers bloom in the Springtime and here one can hear the sweet strains of the song birds. All around is peace and quiet. No rumbling or roaring is anywhere in hearing. Evening and morning - day and night, solumn stillness reigns. The dead of four generations lay buried in this sacred hill. It is the resting place mainly of the McLaurin family. See some of their venerable names: Hugh McLaurin and Mary McLaurin, the great grandparents of our friends Prentiss Buie and D. Blue. Peter McLaurin, Daniel McLaurin, Mary McLaurin of the second generation. Sarah Ann McLaurin with her husband Irving Godbold. Jane McLaurin with her husband David Buie. Mariah McLaurin beside her husband Calvin Blue, and Rebecca Jane Blue. William McLaurin with his wife, Martha Gilmer, all these of the third generation. Griffin McIntosh, the husband of Mariah McLaurin Godbold. Joseph Buie, William Buie, Philip Buie, sons of Jane McLaurin and David Buie all of the fourth generation. All these be together, mutely expectant, waiting for something yet to come. It is impossible to express feelings of deep solemnity as we walk in the midst of these quiet graves. These were some of the best people of Mississippi. They were the men and women who in their day helped to set the morals of the community. Their homes were the abodes of hospitality and grace.

When you came into their grounds a welcome met you in the face. Their kindred have furnished men for congress, for the legislature, for the governorship, for medicine, for the law, for the ministry, besides good husbands and wives and fathers and mothers for many in social life. It is true enough that no one is born into God's Kingdom "of blood or of the will of the flesh, or of the will of man, but of God". Nevertheless a good ancestry is a blessed heritage, for down the line of praying fathers and mothers come the blessings of covenant promises. And therefore there ought to be no degenerate McLaurin today. To those who enjoy twilight meditations there is no place amongst us that should awaken sweeter thoughts than the old McLaurin Cemetery.

How venerable are those gravestones! How sad the thought of the many hearts that bled as they laid loved ones here to rest. Nearly all these were buried in the days of Father Montgomery, Angus McCallum and Sam Montgomery; but the present pastor of Union Church has assisted in laying away several to sleep in this dearold hill. The last one was Jane McLaurin, wife of David Buie. She was born December 21, 1821. She was married May 28, 1840. She was received into the Presbyterian Church of Union Church October 11th, 1845. Dismissed to Bensalem April 9th, 1845. After a short illness she died Feb. 23, 1906. Her husband David Buie was one of a family of eleven brothers and sisters whose parents were Neil and Dorothy Buie. David Buie was born Feb. 7th, 1807 and died October 19th, 1874. For 32 years the husband and wife were separated; but on last Saturday we placed by the husband's side the body of his former bride. The old hilltop echoed the sounds of the old songs of faith and hope: "How firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord", "Jesus, lover of my soul, let me to thy bosom fly." Our fathers sang these old hymns and they sang them to the old tunes. The sweet sentiments of love and joy therein expressed they tenderly embraced.

When we spoke of Mrs. Buie, we called her "Aunt Jane". Her death was like going to sleep. As one says, "It was a white death." In it there was no gloom. The saint of God closed her eyes and passed away.

Bensalem mourned the death of her last charter member, while Bethel and Philadelphia revently joined us in the tender memorial service and burial. There are finer cemeteries in our town and cities. Hollywood and Greenwood hold the bodies of millionaires, soldiers and sailors, but in this quiet corner of Lincoln County, scarcely known and not observed sleep those who were just as true and loyal as they who had lived in the glare and glory of the world.

"Earth to earth, Dust to dust" -- this is the law of nature, but in spite of the law we rejoice because we know that these many links bind us to the better land.

GENEALOGY OF McLAURIN FAMILY
DESCENDANTS OF OLD JOHN OF CULLODEN

JOHN McLAURIN, commonly called John of Culloden was born about the year 1680, in Argyleshire, Scotland. Married about 1720 from which one son issued (Neill). Married a second time about 1730 to a Miss Bohanon from which issued three sons, Daniel, Hugh and Duncan. Hugh dying before reaching maturity. Volunteered when over the age of sixty into the command of Stewart of Appin and fell bravely fighting on the battlefield of Culloden, April 1745 in defence of the Claim of Prince Charles Edward, the last claimant of the English throne of the Ancient House of Stewarts. (This battle of Cullodon is the last battle fought on English soil.)

NEILL McLAURIN, first son of John of Culloden was born in Argyleshire, Scotland about 1723, was a volunteer under Stewart of Appin and severely wounded in the head from a sword cut at the battle of Cullodon. Was married about 1750 and died about middle age leaving two daughters, one of whom married a mechanic, name forgotton, settled in the City of London, and were lost sight of. The other married a McKensie, having two sons Malcom, the oldest lived prosperous Scottish farmer, and died without issue. Laughlin, the second sone became distinguished as a surgeon in the English Navy in which service he attracted the attention of Nicholas, Emperor of Russia, who paid him several marks of distinction and induced him to settle in St. Petersburg, where he died about the year 1825.

DANIEL McLAURIN, first son of John of Culloden by a second marriage was born about 1731 or 5 in Argyleshire, Scotland, married about 1753 from which issued two sons, and died about the year 1780.

CAPTAIN HUGH McLAURIN, his first son was born in Argyleshire, Scotland about 1760, emigrated to the United States of American in 1790. Married a Miss ------ from which issued five sons and two daughters, the following is their history from memory to date 1871. Daniel, first son was born in Richmond County, N.C. about 1792, married to a Miss Mary McLaurin a distant relative in Chewraw, S.C. about 1820, having two years before settled in Copiah County, Mississippi, where he died about 1848, leaving one son and four daughters. His son William was an only son and very much doted upon by his father, proved to be wild and dissipated in his youth and against the earnest advice of parents and friends went on a wild goose chase to California in 1847, where he soon learned the value of good advice and the pleasant and saving influence that home and friends always throw around those that wisely give their hearts to them. In 1848 he returned a wiser and better man, to pay the sad penance of mourning the death of his good father, who died of a broken heart from the ungratefulness of a disobedient son. He after married a Miss ----- still lived at the homestead in Copiah County, Mississippi. The first daughter married a Mr. Godbold, the second a Mr. Buie, the third a Mr. Calvin Blew and the fourth ------ they are all living in the same county with their brother.

PETER McLAURIN, second of Capt. Hugh was born in Richmond County, N. C. about 1795. Married Margaret McLaurin, sister of his brother Daniel's wife about 1828. Died about 1846 in Jefferson County, Mississippi, leaving two daughters, Mary Jane, the oldest married William Shaw in 1847, who still lives where her father died. Eliza, the youngest daughter, married Samuel Newman in 1849 and lives in Jefferson County, Miss.

LAUGHLIN McLAURIN, the third son of Capt. Hugh was born in Richmond County, N. C. about 1798-9. Settled in Wayne County, Miss. Married a Miss Pitman about 1840, died there about 1858, leaving several children.

JOHN McLAURIN, the fourth son of Capt. Hugh was born about 1802 in Richmond County, N. C., came south to Mobile and N. C. about 1820, was in the shipping business and in some voyage disappeared, and never heard from. He never married.

DUNCAN McLAURIN, fifth son of Capt. Hugh, was born about 1806, married a Miss Gillis in Jefferson County, Mississippi, where he died surviving his marriage about a year leaving an infant daughter. Still living there and married a Mr. Cate.

MARY McLAURIN, oldest daughter of Capt. Hugh was born in N. C. about 1794, at the age of 18 married Peter Farilee, who settled in Jefferson County, Miss. about 1829 where he died in 1846. She survived him several years and died about 1860 leaving five sons, viz: Archibald, Hugh, Alexander, John and Daniel and two daughters, Euphomia and Catherine.

NANCY McLAURIN, second daughter of Capt. Hugh was born about 1797 and married about 1822 to Archabald Cameron in Jefferson County, Mississippi. Died about 1836. She survived him several years and died about 1842, leaving two sons viz: Daniel and Archabald who still reside in Jefferson County, Mississippi. His first daughter Annie Jane married Joseph Warren and the second married David Terry and reside in Jefferson County.

DUNCAN McLAURIN, the fourth and youngest son of Old John of Culloden, was born in Argyleshire, Scotland in 1740. Being left an orphan at the early age of five years and the oppressive laws enacted by the English Parliament to punish the Scottish people for rebelling against the ruling Monarch he received no education and grew up entirely illiterate. About the year 1770, he imigrated to the American Colonies, landed at Charleston, S. C, being required to take an oath of allegiance to King George III before being permitted to land, never to take up arms against the mother country. He made his way into Richmond County, N. C., where he settled. After the revolutionary war broke out he volunteered into Capt. William Meer's company and was in several engagements during the war, including Camden. In an engagement with the Tories under Maj. Lanig at Caney Creek or Slippery Bridge, he received two musket balls in his left shoulder making a serious wound which not only disabled him from any further service during the war, but remained a course of suffering during life. At the close of the war he married a Miss McPhater who lived but a short time leaving an infant daughter, Catherine.

About 1790-1 he married a Miss Catherine McLaurin, recently arrived from Glasgow, Scotland, from which issued four sons and one daughter, viz: Neill, Duncan, John, Hugh and Christian. In 1823 he moved to S. Alabama and settled near the place where afterwards sprang up the R.R. town Evergreen, Conocuh County. He died in June, 1833 in the 92nd year of his age, and remains deposited about seven miles northeast of Evergreen. The spot being marked by a plain headstone. He bore the name through life of a good kindhearted man, and continued during the larger half of his life a strict member of the Presbyterian Church.

The descendants of OLD DUNCAN Mc or McJOHN, as he was familiarly called by the Old Scotch people around him, Catherine, by his first marriage never married and died in Lauderdale County, Mississippi in January 1863 at the advanced age of 81 years. She was during her long life a devoted member of the Presbyterian Church and was distinguished for her industry, visiting the sick and needy, it became proverbial to answer the inquiry if anyone was at the bed of sick or dead, "Aunt Katie was there", for by this affectionate name was she known and by it will she be called until the generation that knew her last shall have past away. She was noted for her skill in weaving and many of valuable domestic arts, beloved by children who at the sight of her approach to their home cry out, "Yonder comes Aunt Katie", and her satchel or pocket, a constant companion would sure to contain an apple, biscuit or some nice thing for her favorites, what she always called them. What a commentary might be written about this good woman. Raised in the lower walks of life without education or even the instruction of a mother to live a pious, industrious, useful life, beloved, soothing the aching head when scorched with fever, closing the eyes of the poor sufferer when relieved from earthly afflictions. In contra-distinction, the petted child of fortune who in early life flitted like a butterfly around the giddy maze of fashion and folly, destroying her health and making herself a trouble to all about. To the ways of the short-sighted worlding, and after a few years of fretting and suffering pass away, leaving a name not revered by any, because there were none of the endearing traits of the pious good woman left with it.

NEILL McLAURIN, first son of Duncan McJohn, was born in Richmond County, N.C. in August 1792. Married in 1816 to Jane McCall from which marriage issued one son and five daughters. The daughters are as follows: Mary born in Richmond County, N.C. Sept. 25, 1817, she married John Keeton, Feb. 1837, who died June 1868, she still resides on her homestead near Toomsuba in Lauderdale County, Miss. Annie and Catherine, Annie died before reaching maturity in Monroe County, Alabama near Fort Claiborn in 1822, the other in August in 1841 and buried in family graveyard near Toomsuba in Lauderdale County, Mississippi. Caroline, the fourth daughter was born in Conecuh County, Ala. Feb. 25, 1825. Was married in Feb. 1840 to Thomas Simmons who resided near Lauderdale, Miss. From this marriage issued 9 children, some of whom died in infancy, except the older John Duncan, who died from a wound received while gallently fighting under Gen. R. E. Lee at the battle of the Wilderness May 5-6, 1863. Those surviving are Sidney R., Neill McL., Sarah Jane married to James Delk, Mary S. married to Slex Millard, the single girls are Kitty and O'zelle. Christiana, the fifth daughter was born Nov. 1827, married James L. Simmons in 1852 and reside near Lauderdale Springs. From this marriage issued one son James and three daughters, Sorintha, Jane E. and Martha.

Neill McLaurin, father of these settled in Lauderdale County, Mississippi near Toomsuba Feb. 1835, where he died of pneumonia on the 19th day of Feb. 1856 in 64th year of his age. He was a kind and goodhearted man as his son the writer of this can testify from experience. He was a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church for number of years and it may be said of him that he was raised in the church from infancy and in his mature and later years one of its pillars in the wild and sparsely settled county in which he lived.

Family record of JOHN ROY McLAURIN, of Toomsuba. Only son of Neill, son of Duncan, youngest son of Old John of Culloden. Was born in Richmond County, N. C. on the 19th day of April, 1819. His father moving from there to South Alabama in March 1821 and settled on Randon Creek in Monroe County, and in 1822 settled in Conecuh County on Murder Creek 10 miles northeast of Burnt Corn Springs, where a battle was fought about 8 years before, between and with Creek Indians. In Jan. 1835, his father settled at Toomsuba in Lauderdale County, Mississippi and after his death became the owner of the homestead where he still resides. Having been raised in a new county his opportunities for education were very limited going to old field school about 15 months, but he carried the name of "book worm" at home and abroad. In 1851 he was elected a member of the Mississippi legislature as a States Rights Democrat, reelected in 1855 and in 1863 during the Confederate war was again elected to the same office. For this reason and for advocating the liberty and principles for which his grandfather and other patriots fought, he has been declared a criminal and disfranchised from the privileges of an American citizen by the political bigots and tyrants now ruling his native land who in addition stripped him of many thousands of dollars worth of his property.

In March, 1858 he was married to Amanda Patience Howard, who survived her marriage but a few months, dying on the 27th of October following the 24th year of age. The marriage ceremony was performed by Thomas Y. Armstrong, a member of the Methodist E. Church, and was selected principally because of his constant piety. On December 29, 1859 he was married a second time to Minerva Ann Ramsey by Rev. George Bancroft of the Methodist E. Church, who is giving nearly all his time and strength to the cause of his Master and will in due time receive his reward. In connection with the subject of marriage the writer would express the opinion that it is too sacred a ceremony to be solemnized by any but a worthy minister of God.

From this marriage issued two sons and one daughter. JOHN RAMSEY, the first son was born on the 3rd of March, 1861, was named John after his ancestor John of Culloden, and Ramsey to perpetuate his mother's maiden name in the family. He was religiously and solemnly dedicated to the service of God by baptism in the Presbyterian Church at Toomsuba by the Rev. James W. Phillips in June, 1863. DUNCAN CAMPBELL, second son of John Roy McLaurin, was born on the 10th day of August, 1863. He was called Duncan, first because his grandfather Neill intended to name his father Duncan but the old father Duncan refused, and named him after Old John of Culloden. He was called Duncan after the good old man who left it honored after carrying it 92 years and his father hopes he may love it and honor it and never sully it during a long life. The name Campbell was given partly after a friend (Rev. Duncan Campbell) and because it is one of the greatest and best names in Scotch History. (To give instance only, Duncan Campbell, Marquis of Lorn, suffered martyrdom in defense of the protestant religion in the sixteenth century, and to his son John, first Duke of Argyle, and Prime Minister of William of Orange is England indebted as much as to any one man for the success of Protestantism in that Kingdom.) His father hopes for these reasons that little Duncan Campbell when he reads this record in after years it may act as an inspiration to good and honorable deeds even to give his life if the sacred cause of religion should require, and they may also set as a talisman or shield to prevent him from a stain to sully his good name. He was dedicated to the service of God by baptism in his Uncle Duncan McLaurin's dwelling on Pelahatchy in Rankin County in August, 1864 by Rev. Duncan A. Campbell of the Presbyterian Church. The father of these boys earnestly desires that they may be zealous and efficient ministers in the service of God in the church of their fathers, for he is sure there is no other profession so honorable, useful, and profitable within the reach of man. The next in his opinion is scientific farming, from many of the popular professions of the time I would warn you as I would from the sting of the asp. Sin, trouble and untold ruin are the fruits they bear. MINNIE or MINERVA JANE, the only daughter of J. R. McLaurin was born on the sixth day of October, 1856. She was called Minerva because her father loved it as the name of his beloved wife and also for the ancient historical interested attached to it. She was called Jane after his grandmother Jane McCall who was so pure and good that few came into her presence without feeling it and none were associated with her long, especially her children, but will feel her good influence through life and her father hopes little Minnie will feel that these names are sacred and she will succeed in clothing herself with the pure lives of these good women, as well as their names. She was dedicated to the services of God by baptism in the Presbyterian Church at Toomsuba by the Rev. John A. Smylie in June, 1867.

DUNCAN McLAURIN, second son of Duncan McJohn was born in Richmond County, N. C. 1794, was given a classical education and studied and perfected himself in the profession of medicine and gave promise in early life of being successful and useful in his profession, but alas! evil association brought him in contact with the Demon of Intemperance, which first destroyed his usefullness and in the prime of life destroyed him, dying from its effects in Simpson County, Miss. 1845.

JOHN, third son, died in infancy, the period of his birth not known but was between 1795-8.

HUGH McLAURIN, the fourth and youngest son, was born in Richmond County, N.C. in October, 1800, was a modest handsome man and would have doubtless made a good and useful man had it not been for strong drink, the curse of the human race of these times above any other, unless it be covetousness. He pursued the business of farming through life which terminated in March 1856, neither he nor his brother Duncan ever married.

CHRISTIAN McLAURIN, youngest daughter of Duncan McJohn was born in Richmond County, N.C. in 1798, was married in Conecuh County, Ala. to Henry Howard, moved to Louisiana and settled near Trinity Washitaw where he soon died in 1841. The widow returned to Miss. soon later with her daughters. Her son John remained where he married a Miss -----. On a visit to his mother in August 1857, he died of typhoid fever, leaving two small daughters. His remains lie buried in the Toomsuba graveyard beside his mother who died in 1862, and his sister Amanda, who died in 1858. The younger sister returned to Louisiana 1867, where she now resides near Trinity with a Mr. Lynch, who married her brother's widow.

I forgot the younger brother of Capt. Hugh McLaurin, by name John McLaurin, or as he was called to distinguish him from others, Big John. He was born in Argyleshire, Scotland about the year 1765-8. Emigrated to the United States of America in 1790, was married about 1812 to a Miss McNair and settled in Chesterfield District, S. C. He had three sons, Daniel N., John and Laughlin.

DANIEL N. McLAURIN, son of Big John was born in Chesterfield District, S. C. about 1813. Settled in Jefferson County, Miss. about 1830, married a Miss Buie, has a large family. Has always born the name -----man, and good neighbor, very social in disposition and fond of hunting. Resides now and has for some years in Hazelhurst, in Lawrence County, Miss. on the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern railroad. From early life a pious member of the Presbyterian Church and for many years a ruling elder.

JOHN McLAURIN, second son of Big John, is married and still resides in Chesterfield, S. C.

CATHERINE McLAURIN, wife of Duncan McLaurin, fourth son of old John of Culloden was born in Glasgow, Scotland about 1754. Emigrated to the United States in 1790, was married about 1791 and died in 1841 in the 87th year of age and buried in the family graveyard at Toomsuba. She died in the faith of the Presbyterian Church as she had lived during life.

HUGH McLAURIN, commonly called Bellehalis, was a brother of Catherine of Glasgow and emigrated to the United States in 1790, having married a Miss Calhoun a short time before. Settled in Richmond County, N. C. where he lived until his death which occurred about 1851. He was a good man living an exemplary life in the Presbyterian Church. He had two sons and four daughters. The first son Duncan was born about 1790, was well educated, studied law, was a fine scholar and stood high as a teacher at which he made money in early life. Served his native state, N. C., in the legislature, became a wealthy farmer and lives a bachelor and is living 1871. John, second son of Hugh Bellehalis, was born about 1793, married about middle age to a Miss Owin. Had one son called John Cain who died in early life. He died about 1865, was a successful farmer and gathered a large estate.
